

EXHIBIT 108

$18.5mm Dugaboy Note Attempted Sale -- Process Update
Potential Buyer Firm	Person Contacted	Title	Date Contacted	Information/Materials Provided	Initial Responses	Follow-Up	Notes
Riva Ridge Capital Management	Stephn Golden	Founding Partner- PM	2/27/2024	Over telephone discussed information in HCMLP prepared materials and the opportunity	Asked questions regarding the counter-party; rejected receipt of the materials; no interest at all; "life's too short"	None	Acutally laughed; stated that while the note was performing, that was for now; in his view the note was an invitation to litigate
Cyrus Capital Partners	Svetoslav Nikov	Partner/Analyst	2/27/2024	Over telephone, discussed information in HCMLP materials and the opportunity	Very quick no; no interest in the materials; believes owning the note is asymetric risk to the downside -- if it pays back, a modest return for the risk; if it defaults, your investors will want to know why you would voluntarily become a creditor to Dondero. Compared the opportunity to the chance to lend money to Phil Falcone. Once again said "lifes too short to be a creditor of Dondero"	None
Carronade Capital Management	Dan Gropper	Managing Partner/CIO	2/23/2024	Initial email mentioning note; lunch meeting with Gropper and head of research Andy Taylor on 2/29/24; reviewed materials at lunch meeting	Gropper and Taylor quickly expressed no interest in the note; upside vs. downside skewed (far too much downside); even if the upside was better balanced, the liklihood of litigation over such a small note made the investment unattactive (even if you got costs of collection); asset transfers out of maker also a concern	None. Did not want to keep the materials	Small note with likely costly litigation that would be never ending makes the opportunity completely unattactive
UBS	Nader Attalla	Structured Credit Trading; responsible for day-to-day managemnet of UBS actions against Dondero	2/23/2024	Initial email mentioning note; follow up call and emailing of "teaser"	Two calls in March and early April; He has been too busy to focus on it; troubled by the fact that it does not cross-default with other Dugaboy obligations	Has Teaser; follow-up discussion required	UBS is suing Dondero and Dugaboy on other obligations/torts; could be useful to them at the right price

$18.5mm Dugaboy Note Attempted Sale -- Process Update
Potential Buyer Firm	Person Contacted	Title	Date Contacted	Information/Materials Provided	Initial Responses	Follow-Up	Notes
NexPoint	Matt McGraner and DC Sauter	CIO / General Counsel	5/16/2024	Email with description of note. Indicated nonbinding offer price of $12mm, subject to approval of oversight board.	DC Sauter responded via email on 5/22/24 that they were not currently interested in the terms outlined. If the terms change, they would be interested in taking another look.	Dave Klos sent email on 5/23/24 thanking DC Sauter for response. "As you are not interested in the note, we will move forward with another transaction."
Bardin Hill Investment Partners	Pratik Desai	Partner/Portfolio Manager	6/7/2024	Initial email with "teaser" and requesting follow-up call	30 min call on June 10, 2024; reviewed teaser with Desai; questions regarding backgorund of note; why it had not been accelerated; payment history; terms; Dugaboy assets and liabilities; payback period at various discounts; ulitimately would require a material discount to 50% soft offer; Desai asks about lending against the note and other Claimant Trust assets with material hair-cuts. Bardin Hill would not be interested in being a direct counterpart to Dondero especially if that was their only recourse.	Desai and Claimant Trust to consider ways to lend against the note and other assets in the event the Claimant Trust desires $10 million to $20 million of liquidity	Thoughtful approach; no interest in Dondero as a counterparty but would like to provided liquidity to the Trust and use a variety of assets to secure the BH advances.